*Espionage and Activities of Foreign Intelligence Services in SFRY
– Some Forms of Subversive Activities against SFRY
as Perceived by National Security Authorities*

Summary

The paper provides an overview and analysis of espionage activities of foreign intelligence services in the territory of Yugoslavia as perceived by the security authorities of the SFRY. In those days, all it took was a small step to go from curiosity, tourism and scientific research to espionage and adventure, which caused distrust in a system where every citizen is otherwise potentially suspicious, and the eyes of the national security were always wide open, the repressive system being under strain at all times.
